

Mojo de Caña has been founded in 2001, in Santa Brígida municipality (Gran Canaria Island, Spain). Currently we have several offices in Spain. Our headquarters office is to be found in Santa Brígida, and we have offices in Santa Cruz de Tenerife (Tenerife Island), Córdoba and Madrid (2016) as well. Our internal structure is divided in several departments ( Board, Treasury, Marketing and PR, Artists Management, Events Planning and Logistics, Social and Inclusion projects, and International Projects Department, Juvenile Board etc), coordinated by more than 15 workers, 3-8 EVS volunteers, 3-8 interns and more than 30 local volunteers, having a middle age of 27. We are organizing several cultural productions during the year, since the primary area of the association is artistic production (festivals, circus, carnival etc.). Through our social projects and activities, we are in daily contact with around 300 youngsters in several islands of Canary Islands.

After becoming familiar to the functioning of the association, the volunteer will be able to help on a wide range of topics dealing with youth participation and cultural activities. Tasks will combine office and internet research tasks, answering emails, to developing concept, with field work (holding information session, organising language courses, workshops for young people of the community, preparing logistic for the events..). Her/his creativity, and eagerness to contribute, will be essential, and personal ideas and apportionation of the volunteer will be highly appreciated. Volunteer will work together with other workers of the association on an equal basis.

In each one of volunteers tasks, they will be collaborating, she won't have main role of responsibility, as we are not looking for a substitution of an employe. Volunteer will actively participate and collaborate, and she will always have a right to speak and purpose her own ideas and wish

The volunteer will be working from 9am until 3pm. However, it is very important to underline that the working time is very flexible and that it depends on our monthly schedule. Working hours will not pass more than a 37,5 house per week. Occasionally will happened that the volunteer will work by night. In that case, she will receive a day free during the week. Volunteer will have 2 days free during the week, with two and a half days free each month.

The flats are equipped with basic furniture (beds; kitchen; fridge; oven; shared bathroom with hot water; laundry; chairs; tables). The hosting/coordinating organization has to communicate clear rules of sharing accommodation to the volunteer (including the case of having guests or damages). The volunteers are free to have hosts in flats with the precondition they pre-agree it with their flatmates and respect the rules of a shared life in a flat.

In addition, volunteer will have a mentor, a person who is responsible to accompany them during their work, to supervise and inform them on how to perform the tasks and select the tasks.

With this person, the volunteer will try to define her own interests and may propose project ideas / activity that she would like to accomplish during her stay here. Together they will evaluate the proposal, and eventually, start with the implementation of it.

The first few weeks, the tutor and the volunteer will meet several times a week to establish the work plan of the volunteer and to make her as fast as possible comfortable within the association, the staff and the resources available. Slowly, the volunteer will feel more and more confidence in herself, which will positively affect her performances. However, each time a new task is proposed to a voluntary, she will be provided with a training to help her understand and successfully fulfill the assignments.
